

Change a
Child's Story.™

ABOUT US

CASA for Children (Court Appointed Special Advocates) recruits, trains, and empowers volunteers to advocate on behalf of abused and neglected children. When a child is placed in foster care, a judge appoints a volunteer advocate to create connections and promote nurturing relationships for the child and family and to make independent and informed recommendations to help the court make a ruling about the child's best interest. CASA strives to be the one constant on a child's journey through the child welfare system.

OUR MISSION

CASA for Children strives to support hope, healing, and healthy families by empowering community volunteers to advocate on behalf of abused and neglected children.

"Nothing you do for children is ever wasted." -Garrison Keillor

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE A CASA

Learn

Learn all you can about the child and his or her family and life.

Engage

Engage with the child during regular visits.

Recommend

Speak up for the child's best interests in court. Make recommendations regarding placement and needed services.

Collaborate

Collaborate with others to ensure that necessary services are provided and are in the child's best interest.

Report

KEY FACTS

- CASA for Children was formed in 1990 in Bowie County, Texas, under the direction of 5th Judicial District Judge Jack Carter.
- CASA is an umbrella program under the registered 501(c)3 nonprofit Northeast Texas CASA, Inc. along with their sister program, the Texarkana Children's Advocacy Center.
- CASA serves children in the following Arkansas and Texas counties: Hempstead, Howard, Lafayette, Little River, Miller, Nevada, Bowie, and Cass.
- The goal of a CASA Volunteer is to reunite the child with their family of origin. If this is not possible, CASA volunteers research other family members or family friends that may be able to provide a safe and stable home.
- There are approximately 150 children in foster care in CASA's service area without a volunteer advocate.
